

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-15a

I can evaluate conflicting sources of evidence to sustain a line of argument.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-16a

I can contribute to a discussion on the extent to which people's needs should be met by the state or the individual.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-16b

Through discussion, I have identified aspects of a social issue to investigate and by gathering information I can assess its impact and the attitudes of the people affected.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-16c

I can analyse the factors contributing to the development of a multicultural society and can express an informed view on issues associated with this.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-17a

I can critically analyse the relative importance of the contribution of individuals or groups in bringing about change in a significant political event.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-17b

I can evaluate the role of the media in a democracy, assess its importance in informing and influencing citizens, and explain decisions made by those in power.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-17c

I can compare and contrast two world ideologies to express an informed view on how ideology affects the lives of people.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-18a

I can evaluate the impact which decision making bodies have on the lives of people in Scotland or elsewhere.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-18b

I can debate the reasons why some people participate less than others in the electoral process and can express informed views about the importance of participating in a democracy.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-18c

I can contribute to a discussion on the actions and motives of a group or organisation which seeks to achieve its aims by non-democratic means.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-19a

I can present an informed view on how the expansion of power and influence of countries or organisations may impact on the cultures, attitudes and experiences of those involved.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-19b

By examining the role and actions of selected international organisations, I can evaluate how effective they are in meeting their aims.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-20a

I can critically examine how some economic factors can influence individuals, businesses or communities.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-20b

I can research the purposes and features of private, public and voluntary sector organisations to contribute to a discussion on their relationships with stakeholders.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-20c

I can evaluate working practices available to employees within different types of business organisations.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-21a

I can evaluate the suitability of finance options available for setting up and supporting different types of businesses.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-21b

Having considered the financial needs of individuals and businesses, I can evaluate, prepare and present financial information and documents to assist in making appropriate financial decisions.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business
Fourth Level SOC 4-22a

By researching the organisation of a business, I can discuss the role of departments and personnel, evaluating how they contribute to the success or failure of the business.

Social Studies - People in society, economy and business

Fourth Level SOC 4-22b

I can identify internal and external factors influencing planning and decision making and can assess how these decisions contribute to the success or failure of businesses.